Head's Blog

Whilst everyone is tired as the term draws to an end, we were all reinvigorated during the moving up day on Thursday and very much looking forward to September with the arrival of our new teachers and pupils. The end of an academic year is the right time to look back and reflect upon all the successes that one has had and to consider what more could be done next year. I hope you find the reports being sent home a true reflection of your child and that you find the time to discuss it with them so that they can continue to flourish next year. We are so very lucky in this country to have universal access to education. As we begin to move towards the holiday, I hope that we can spare a thought for all those elsewhere in the world who would give anything in order to attend school.

Only 1.5% separates each class's attendance and therefore any class can still win the trip to 'Kidszania' on Monday 20th July; the winners will be announced in next Friday's assembly and it is very important for the winners to return the permission slips on the Monday morning.
